Parents: With the exception of our Instructional division or siblings (of the same age), SAY policies are specific to the rules our computer generated draw can allow. With the exception of a head coach requesting either one assistant OR a sponsor; other play together requests can not be honored.

WCSC is a recreational club that follows the SAY rules randomly draw teams each season – which allows for a random draw of the group younger players in a division. In most cases, we can keep a core of kids that played together in the same division, on the same team the prior year, in this case, Fall 2009. Cores move from fall to fall or spring to spring. A core this season would have been the younger group from last fall – which was randomly drawn. Ages will also need to be balanced – meaning that 1 team can not have 7 older players and another only 3 older players.

While we can appreciate Suzie wants to play with Kimmie or Mike needs to ride with Jeff – we can not “create” teams – please don’t ask. We know that car pool situations can be resolved once you learn who else is on your child’s team and kids will find new friends on their team and will probably enjoying playing against their BFF. For more information, please visit www.wcsoccer.org and review our FAQs.
